Course Information

Ban the Takeaway

The aim of the course is for you to prepare meals often bought from takeaway restaurants. All too often people pay too much for takeaway food that is not authentic, expensive and contains poor quality ingredients and sauces. Why put up with that? Learn to make popular takeaway dishes that are made to traditional methods, contain natural ingredients and that will taste better than anything purchased from a takeaway. Each week we will be looking at favourite takeaways, from Indian to Chinese to Thai, and through demonstrating and tasting we will learn how to make these foods at home.
